COUNTY COMMITTEE MEET

NEW RULE OF ELECTION OF A COUNTY CHAIRMAN ADOPTED.

Old Officers Continued Until Election of New Committee—Better Than The Old Method

The Democratic County Committee met on last Saturday morning at the Globe Hotel, in this place, to consider the election of a County Chairman and of delegates and alternates to Demo-cratic State Convention. There was a representative turn out of Committee-men.

The County Committee had been considering the suggestions of the COMPIER for the adoption of some new method for the election of a County Chairman and were practically unanimous in the conclusion that the old rule, of the old committee selecting a chairman for the work of a new year yet to be done, had had its day and de-served to be retired.

Wm. P. Devine, Chairman, was prevented from attending meeting by reason of sickness. When committee came to order the names of W. Howard Dicks and H. G. Wehler were presented for temporary chairman, but latter withdrawing Mr. Dicks was unani-mously named.

J. L. Williams, Esq., who had been substituted by H. W. Hart from First ward, of Gettysburg, then presented the following motion and amendment to the rules.

That the present officers of the County Committee be continued in office until their successors are elected by the members of the in-coming County Committee.

That the present rule which requires that the County Chairman, Secretary and Treasurer be elected on the 3rd Saturday of March, in each year, be amended so as to read as follows: The Chairman, Secretary and Treasur-er of the County Committees shall here-after be elected by the new County Committee at a meeting called for that purpose within a reasonable time after the nomination of candidates on the county ticket and the candidates nomi-nated shall be invited to be present at said meeting.

Resolved Further; that this resolu-tion and the action of the committee thereon be submitted to the next county convention for its approval and ratification.

The committeemen were ready for the question and the above amend-ment to the rules was unanimously carried.

S. Miley Miller, of Reading, and P. A. T. Bower, of Butler, were elected delegates to the next Democratic State Convention, with J. L. Williams, Esq., of this place, and Jas. R. Neely, of Huntington, as alternates.

A motion prevailed that the County Chairman appoint a committee of five, to fix date for the next county convention, after which meeting ad-journed.

See Heart of Texas To-Night.

Port Jarvis "Republican" says:—"After having seen so many poor at-tractions and plays of indifferent merit, it was a real treat to watch 'The Heart of Texas' at the theatre last night, everything connected with the production, was more than satisfac-tory, and gave Allan Villair and Pearl Lewis splendid opportunities for dra-matic work and they more than filled all requirements. WHEAT GOOD, FRUIT BUDS SAFE Arendtsville, March 21.—Reports are very favorable to our citizens here that the trolley road to be built from Mt. Holly to Gettysburg next summer will come via Bendersville, Arendtsville and Mummaburg which would make an excellent paying line. It would also draw a large percentage of trade from the thickly populated Buchanan valley.

O. M. Bushman moved from Getts-burg to this town and has opened a harness shop.

Sherman Hoffman who had been employed at Sugar Notch, Pa. as tele-graph operator and Miss Margaret Clunk who is employed in a silk mill at Harrisburg spent a few days with their parents in this place. Mr. Hoff-man has gone to Chicago where he is now employed as telegraph operator.

Our farmers report the wheat com-ing out very nicely after being covered all winter with a heavy coat of snow. The fruit buds are also reported safe as yet.

Eggs have dropped 8 cents per doz- here during the last week, our mer-chants only paying 14 cents, butter 19 cents, potatoes 30.

Messrs P. E. Raffensperger and A. F. Trostle have each got in a large assortment of new buggies and car-riages.

At Spencer Strausbaugh's, and Ed-ward Geyer's sales, both near this place, best horses brought from $150 to $180, best cows $47.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY

Take Advantage of Half Price Offer Made by L. M. Buehler.

In these times when living expenses have increased from thirty to fifty per cent., it is unusual to hear of a standard remedy being offered at half price.

Yet that is the way L. M. Buehler the popular druggist is selling Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of dyspepsia and constipation. In addition to selling a fifty cent bottle, containing a month's treatment of sixty doses for 25 cents he gives his personal guarantee with every bottle he sells to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

This unusual offer has brought hundreds of customers to his store in the last few weeks, yet out of the many bottles of Dr. Howard's specific he has sold, but one customer has asked to have the money returned. This was done without any questions, although Mr. Buehler does not think the remedy could have been given a fair trial.

Doctor's bills can be saved by the use of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of dyspepsia and constipation, and by taking advantage of this special half price introductory offer, our readers can save half the regular price of the specific.

FARM WAGGONS

"The Studebaker." "What's in a name?" Well, a great deal if it is a name like "Studebaker" on a farm wagon. Why it sells the wagon. All we need to do is to tell the farmer that we sell the Studebaker Wagon. Quality counts and this is the very best wagon made, we except no other. It is true economy to pay more money and get a good wagon than to buy a cheap trashy one that will go to pieces before you get the value of your money. With ordinary care a Studebaker wagon will last about as long as a man does.

FARM MACHINERY

We are headquarters for all kinds of Farm Implements and Machinery, and have our agents all over the county. Deering binders, mowers and rakes, Crown drills, Oliver and Syracuse plows, cultivators, corn planters, harrows. Everything the farmer needs. We have made it a point to get the farmer and know he will be right too.

Crown Wheelbarrow machine ever made to These seeders are su- and finish and will repay one season's use. They rarely. Just the thing

WARRANTED TO DO GOOD WORK.

PITTSBURG PERFECT FENCE

For some time we have been investigating a new idea in wire fencing. After a most careful examination we have been convinced that we have found the best field fence made. Below we give some of the points of advantage which we claim for it.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A FENCE

That will stand hard usage :

That will not sag down or curl over on the top :

That has stays that will not slip :

That will conform to uneven ground :

That has no slack wires :

That does not require an expert to erect :

That is low in price.

If by this time you are interested, come and see our fence and get in your order.

If you are skeptical, come and be convinced.

We add our personal guarantee to everything claimed for it and would be pleased to submit prices.

Don't fail to see us before buying your fencing. Don't put it off until you are ready to use it, but place your order in advance, as we cannot carry all sizes in stock.

FEBRUARY SALES OF HOUSEWARES

Something new for the kitchen all the time. Where is there a housewife who doesn't need something in her kitchen most any time. We are offering a nice line of Bluestone Agateware at 20 per cent. reduction, all good stock, scarcely a chipped piece in the lot. Also a special 20 per cent. reduction on Ivory Ware. Bowls, pudding dishes, berry dishes, baking dishes and pitchers in the lot.

A lot of White Ware reduced, some 25 per cent., some 30 per cent. We have a big lot of White Ware, plates of all sizes, bakers, cups and saucers, bowls, butter chips, and some hotel ware. We are going to sell all the white ware we have. It must go, at a sacrifice, it need be. Some of it has been with us a little longer than we allow and so the time has come for it to go. This is your opportunity, do not let it go by. A good chance for the boarding houses, restaurants and hotels to replenish their stock of dishes at a very low price, as this must absolutely all go out this season.

Some Nickel Ware reduced. Chafing dishes, pudding dishes, etc. that have been out on display and have consequently become a little dull in appearance. Not hurt the least bit. Some of these to go as low as half price.

TYPEWRITER SUPPLIES

We handle a full line of Typewriter supplies, ribbons, carbon paper, books or bound in folders containing one, two or three sheets, the greatest convenience for users of carbon paper ever invented. A full assortment of typewriter paper by the pound or ream, letter size or legal size. Also a full line of Eaton Hurlbut's fine stationery, box paper and tablets.

HOW EASY TO BE NEAT

The comfort of our homes is due to the neatness and the sweetness of our women. What woman will sacrifice neatness or sweetness by needless disorder and worry? What man wants her to or will let her? It is so much easier to be neat when you use the Sharpless Tubular Cream Separator than when you use pans, crocks, cans or other separators and it is easier to make dairy- ing pay by using this Separator because you get so much more cream and so much better butter.

WASHING MACHINES AND WRINGERS

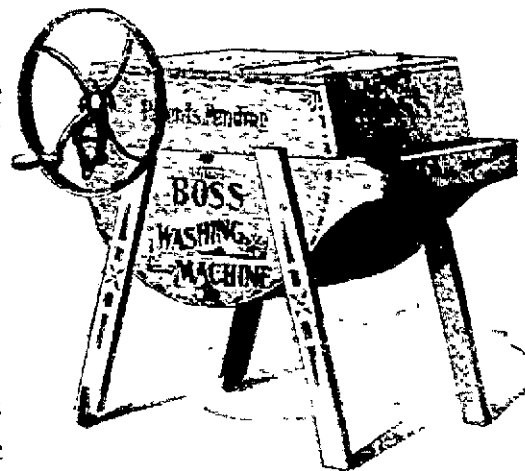

The Boss Washer is the best machine made. We have several varieties and sizes. For a cheap Washer the "Unceda" cannot be equalled. The "Boss," a higher priced, better machine takes the lead. Prices vary from $3.00 to $7.50. Wringers from 99c up. The higher priced wringers fully guaranteed.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

The following communication was received from a York county friend as to editorial in the last issue. We heartily join in the sentiment of the communication and suggestions made as follows:

I have read with interest your editorial in the issue of the COMPILER this week, "Hunters Should Organize." This is a matter that cannot be given too much prominence in the newspapers, and every individual, whether interested in sportsmanship or not, should interest himself in seeing that our fields and streams are protected against pot hunters and illegal fishermen.

Our organization in York county is making a determined effort to stop violations of the fish and game laws and to see that the fields and streams are stocked with game.

Would it not be well, in the furtherance of the proper motive which inspired your writing, to ask the judge of your court at the next Quarter Sessions Court to impress upon constables, when they file their returns, the importance of performing the duties required of them by law in the matter of making arrests for violations of fish and game laws?

This matter has been seriously neglected, and persons have been hunting and fishing in this county, and no doubt in your own county, without fear of prosecution or punishment.

There is no reason why the fields and streams of York and Adams counties should not be filled with game and fish, and if the organizations in both counties interest themselves in the matter, the time will come when we will not have to resort to foreign fields and waters for a little sport and healthful exercise.

LAUDABLE ENTERTAINMENT.

To Provide For the Needs of an Injured Neighbor.

Iron Springs, March 21.—Mrs. Mame Hummelbaugh and Miss Lola Hummelbaugh attended the entertainment held at the Fairfield High School on Monday evening the 18th, and are glad to report it as a grand success, owing to the wise and efficient management of the teacher, Prof. C. A. Laidis.

Emmett Kime moved from Mrs. Doctor Beaver's farm at this place, to Mr. Phillip Sowers' farm, some distance from McKnightstown, on Thursday the 16th. The community loses a citizen, always proving himself to be a peaceable, honest, upright man. Your correspondent wishes him success in his new home.

The following parties held an entertainment at the Fairfield Station school house on Tuesday eve, the 14th: John C. Watson, Howard Sanders, Samuel Rensel, J. Arthur Spangler, Wm. Kessel, Howard Reed, Harvey Herring, John Dick, Sr., Joseph Gallagher and Frank Munshower. Miss Bena Marshall, the teacher, and pupils of the school furnished the music for the occasion. Miss Marshall playing the organ and the school singing several selections and adding much in making it a success. The amount realized was $9.70, part of the proceeds to be given to Frank McIntire.

Mrs. J. E. Kissinger and Miss Fitz attended the entertainment at Fairfield Station on Tuesday eve.

Miss Minnie Smith, from Highfield, was the guest of John McSherry and wife at Fairfield Station, last Wednesday.

Ed. Strasbaugh and wife, who reside at Mt. Pleasant school house, were the guests of your correspondent and family on last Saturday.

J. Harry Pecher, from the Lower Tract was a recent caller here.

Wm. Smith, who is employed at Pittsburg in a Penn'a Railroad office made a short call here. Mr. Smith deserves very much credit for fitting himself for the extensive business affairs of life.

Harvey Mann moved from Orrtanna to Fairfield Station recently.

Geo. Tressler, wife and children, from Middleburg, Franklin county, visited his brother, M. C. Tressler and family on Friday the 17th, also attending his father's sale at Fountaindale the same day.

Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with scrofula and came losing my weight. For four months I could not get on anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could walk, and when I had taken three bottles I could see as well as ever." SCOTT A. HARRISON, Withers, N.C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

OFFICERS FOR YEAR ELECTED AT ARENDTSTVILLE MEETING

Apple Trees, Value of Farms, Short Hay Crop and Seed Potatoes Discussed.

The Adams County Agricultural Association held its annual meeting at Arendtville on Saturday afternoon March 18th, 1905 at which time the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President H. M. Keller, Vice President Wm. W. Boyer, Secretary A. J. Weidner, Treasurer Eli P. Garretson, County Committee, J. F. Bushey.

1st Topic. "When to Plant Apple Trees, and What Varieties," A. J. Weidner would plant early in fall of year, roots would callis over and ground would settle firm around roots so they would be ready to start to grow in spring as soon as weather gets warm. If left till Spring planting is often delayed on account of other work pressing, and rains may come and wet the ground and still further delay the planting. Trees planted late will not start as vigorously and make the growth that they will do if they are planted early and ready to make the start as soon as the warm days of spring come. Varieties to be planted would be the York Imperial largely. No other variety has given as good a profit in Adams county as this. It is a commercial apple. The Stamen Wine Sap is highly recommended for this section, but has only been grown in an experimental way. The Seneca is also highly recommended as a suitable apple for Adams County.

2nd Topic. "Is There any Increase in Value of Farm Land in Adams County?" T. A. Fisher thought there had been no increase, while J. F. Bushey cited the following instance to the contrary: $8000 had been paid for a farm a number of years ago, since then $2000 worth of timber had been sold off and farm had depreciated in fertility, fences, etc., fully $1000, and yet this farm was resold the past year for $7500. Farms adjacent to or near railroads bring more than they did years ago, but farms far away from railroads will not sell as well and have not increased in value.

3rd Topic. "What Can We Substitute for the Shortage of the Hay Crop?" J. F. Bushey recommended corn, saying he can grow more feed per acre with corn than with anything else and does not find any difficulty in bridging over a short hay crop with corn. Millet has also been grown with good results and makes an excellent feed. Oats and Canada field peas also make excellent feed and an abundance of it.

4th Topic. "Selection of Seed Potatoes. Both Early and Late." For early J. A. Knooss has had good results with Early Harvest and Early Ohio. For late, Irish Cobler, Carman No. 3 and Up to Date are all recommended.

Meeting then adjourned to meet at Biglerville.

Letter to John Irwin

Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: You want a cheap job of paint for a cheap house, don't you?

It's Devco. It's the regular thing in Devco; there's nothing, in all paint, so cheap as Devco.

Oh, yes, you can paint with mud; but that isn't paint; you want it to look about right for a month or two.

Paint Devco; can't do it for less; there's nothing so cheap: say nothing of wear, there's nothing so cheap as Devco.

It goes so far: save gallons: no matter about the price, save gallons. A gallon of paint, put-on, costs $4 or $5; save gallons.

Devco is your paint: save gallons; Devco is your paint.

Yours truly

F. W. Devco & Co.

At the county court held here on Saturday last, the cases were examined.

The Deserted House
(Original.)
My automobile was powerful, but the snow was falling fast, and the wind was hurling it about wildly. I passed through a village where the lamps shone dimly through the circling flakes, but they were bright compared with the black road into which I plunged beyond the town limits. My four acetylene lamps forced a circular hole in the darkness, and there would have been no difficulty in my getting on had not the snow increased, while the wind, rising to fury, blew it into drifts. My pace grew slower, and with each drift I was in danger of being stalled. The cold was intense, and I began to grow sleepy.

At last I was stalled. My lamps showed me, not fifty yards ahead, a stone bridge, beyond which the road forked at the foot of a large tree. Beyond on the left fork I thought I saw a light. Putting on all the force there was in my machine, I plowed through the snow and drew up in front of a massive stone house, with pillars rising the whole height of the building, such a house as was in vogue about 1840.

I rapped with the brass knocker, and a man opened the door. He was not a servant, but a well to do looking person of the country class.

I told him my story, and he invited me to take my automobile around to a shed in the rear and to spend the night in his house. When I returned from the shed, he met me at a back door, brushed the snow off me and led me into the living room, where his wife and children were sitting about a blazing wood fire.

There was something uncanny about these people, and for my life I couldn't tell what it was. They were all as white as if they had been long ill and seemed hungry, not for food, for they gave me a supper, never touching a morsel themselves, but for something the nature of which I could not guess.

The wife and mother spread her hands before the fire to warm them, and I could see the flame behind, not through red blood, but white flesh. The children, too, had a blue-white look about them that made me cold. I attempted to caress a little girl of six years, seizing her hand, but she quickly drew it away, and I was glad she did, for it was cold and stiff, not the least of that warm softness in it usual to childhood.
I was glad when my host showed me to a sleeping room.

In the night I awoke suddenly with suffocation. A mouth was glued to mine, and some one was drawing my breath from my body. I was just in time to place my hands upon a pair of shoulders and hurl the figure away.
In another moment I would have been powerless. Gasping, I awaited the person's return, but when no one came, I listened. There was no sound, and after a time I wondered if I had not had a spasmic closing at the mouth of the windpipe and dreamed the rest. I was all in a tremor and resolved to remain awake for the rest of the night. Nevertheless I became drowsy, and the last I remember was struggling with sleep.

I was awakened by some one shaking me, the mouth of a flask put between my lips and liquor in my mouth.
I swallowed a considerable draft, after which I opened my eyes to be blinded by a powerful light, the light from an automobile. Two men were baffling me. When assured that I was alive they told me that they were passing in their automobile and had found me in mine apparently frozen. They had reached me just in time to save me.

Ahead of me was the stone bridge I had seen, beyond which the road forked at the foot of the oak tree. I was still stuck in the drift from which I thought I had gone to the house farther on. I said nothing to my rescuers about this, and after they had turned my machine I went with them back to the village, where I spent the remainder of the night.

The next morning was bright, cold and still, and after a hot breakfast I proceeded on my way, passed the point where I had been stalled and pushed on by the left fork. What was my astonishment to see that the house at which I had stayed the night before was where I thought it. But instead of being occupied it was deserted.

I was paralyzed with a frightful dread. Fortunately I had nothing to do but hold the steering wheel to put the horrible place behind me. Reaching a farm house a short distance beyond, I stopped and, leaving my automobile, knocked. A woman came to the door.

"You know the house half a mile back on this side of the road—stone house, big pillars?"
"Yes."
"Any one lived there lately?"
"Not since a few years after it was built."

"How so?"
"I've heard the family that lived in it all died of cholera somewhere in the fifties."
I caught at the railing of the porch.
"Ever heard anything—strange—about the place?"

"Oh, yes. There's lots of talk. I don't believe any of it, but I can't get any of my children to go past it in the dark.
One story is that the dead sometimes try to suck the life out of the living, and this family—"
I waited to hear no more. Staggering to my automobile, I pulled myself in, managed to turn the starting gear and went flying away, bent only on putting miles between me and the house where I did not doubt the dead had taken me for the purpose of appropriating a life that was on the eve of leaving its body.

THE GERMAN APPETITE.
It is Expansive and Calls for a Generous Bill of Fare.
Wherever there is a German there you will find enough to eat. It may not always be to your taste, but it is there in wholesome quality and generous quantity, and usually his wife and children are also there to enjoy it with him. It is not unusual to see the entire family, even down to the smallest child, at a festive gathering, and, however queer this may appear to American eyes, it is a custom of the fatherland. When the husband takes a glass of wine or beer he is quite willing that his wife should have an equal amount and to give the baby a sip if it so pleases her. The entire code of ethics in Germany is more on an equal plane for men and women than in any other country in the world, and it is no doubt due to this phase of domestic felicity that Germany is practically a divorce-less country. At the annual Metzel-suppe the men do not come alone, but bring their wives with them. No man of any other nationality in the world can boast the gastronomic capability of the German. The number of glasses of beer that he can consume with ease is something astonishing, and the mixture of soups, sweet and sour pickles, sausage and cheeses dear to the Teutonic palate is enough to give the ordinary mortal indigestion by merely thinking of it.—Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly.

So Way to Get Even.
A New York journalist once went down to Atlanta to interview Joel Chandler Harris, says the Outlook. When he told the creator of Uncle Remus that he was going to "write him up" the kindly southerner was immediately reminded of the experience of his old friend, Simon Sugg.

"Simon Sugg," he said, "was an odd old fellow who used to live down state.
I knew him well when I was a boy.
One day a friend met him.

"Simon," said he, 'do you remember Jim Hooper, that went to school with us down at Monticello?"
"Jim Hooper? Of co'se I 'member Jim Hooper. Little slim fellow, wa'n't he?"
"Yaas. Well, Jim's gone and nov-eled you!"

"Noveled me, hes he?" said Simon.
"Well, ding his hide!"

Young Idlers of the Time.
Among the moderately well to do there is an army of young men growing up in idleness in this country who think it beneath their dignity to learn a trade or follow a profession and who in many instances form that large class known as genteel idlers. They have been pampered and petted by their parents until they have come to the conclusion that the world owes them a living without their having to work for it or give an equivalent in toil. They are in truth a menace to the peace and welfare of the country, and those who encourage them to it are as reprehensible as they.—
